COPPER TACKS EVIDENCE IN I.W.W. TRIAL

Peoples' exhibit No. 42, a handful of copper tacks, was the starting point of the most extensive single bit of testimony that has yet entered the criminal syndicalism trial of James McHugh, former I. W. W. secretary here, when they precipitated today a long recital of government investigations through the central part of the state. The recital was made by George H. Hudson, a special agent for the department of justice.

His cross-examination occupied most of the forenoon session of court. His recital examination was completed by state attorneys in the afternoon.

How he installed a dictaphone in the Fresno headquarters of the organization, how a similar instrument was used in the jail at Sacramento where I. W. W.'s were quartered, how he discovered the copper tacks and emery powder at the Fresno rendezvous, how he got trace of alleged phosphorus bombs, how he was assisted in his work by former I. W. W.'s who had been under arrest, and confessed to crimes of the same sort themselves, were among the things of which Hudson told.

CONFERES SETTING 144. EUG. HAYSTACKS.

Clearly of counsel for the defense, questioned him for upwards of half an hour. Hudson stated that one of them, Albert Cutts, had admitted setting fire to haystacks, burning phosphorus bomb materials and other crimes. He had been arrested, according to Hudson, but never brought to trial. Hudson denied Cutts had been offered immunity to aid the government. He also denied that Jack Hudson, another former I. W. W., had been promised immunity. He said Diamond had been arrested at Fresno. Both men assisted him, he stated, in locating property of the Industrial Workers.

Hudson testified that it was he who found the emery and the copper tacks in the Fresno I. W. W. headquarters. The emery powder was in the desk of the secretary opposite the entrance to the headquarters. The tacks were in a bookcase a little ways away. Both were in plain sight of anybody who entered the hall, he said.

BOMBS FOUND IN FRESNO.

The phosphorus bombs and materials were found, he said, at Fresno and in other parts of the state. He told of Cutts guiding him to the site of an arc on the Stockton slough which had been formerly a rendezvous of the Industrial Workers and of his failure to find the phosphorus there. But, he said, he was told by people who bought the arc that they had found two bottles of phosphorus in it. He said they declared they had used the phosphorus, experimenting with it.

Hudson's mention of the use of a dictaphone was inadvertently made. The prosecution closed his direct examination with the statement that they would recall him for another line of the defense. Taking up his cross-examination, Cleary asked him regarding the I. W. W. headquarters at Fresno and whether there was anything on the walls there, other witnesses having testified with regard to other headquarters to finding bulletin boards, posters and other mural decorations.

DICTAPHONE IS QUICKLY INSTALLED

"I suppose you mean the dictaphone," said Hudson.

Clearly he had not meant the dictaphone, but he knew nothing of the dictaphone, but he changed his line of questioning as a result of the witness statement. Hudson said he rented the room next the headquarters in Fresno the day the I. W. W. rented the latter, and almost immediately, without their knowledge, installed the dictaphone. None of whatever evidence he may have secured by use of the dictaphone was brought out today.

Hudson said he was well-to-do and that he offered his services to Deputy United States Marshal S. J. Shannon, before the Fresno raid, to occupy his time. He said he was given his present inspectorship by the department of justice two months after the Fresno raid.

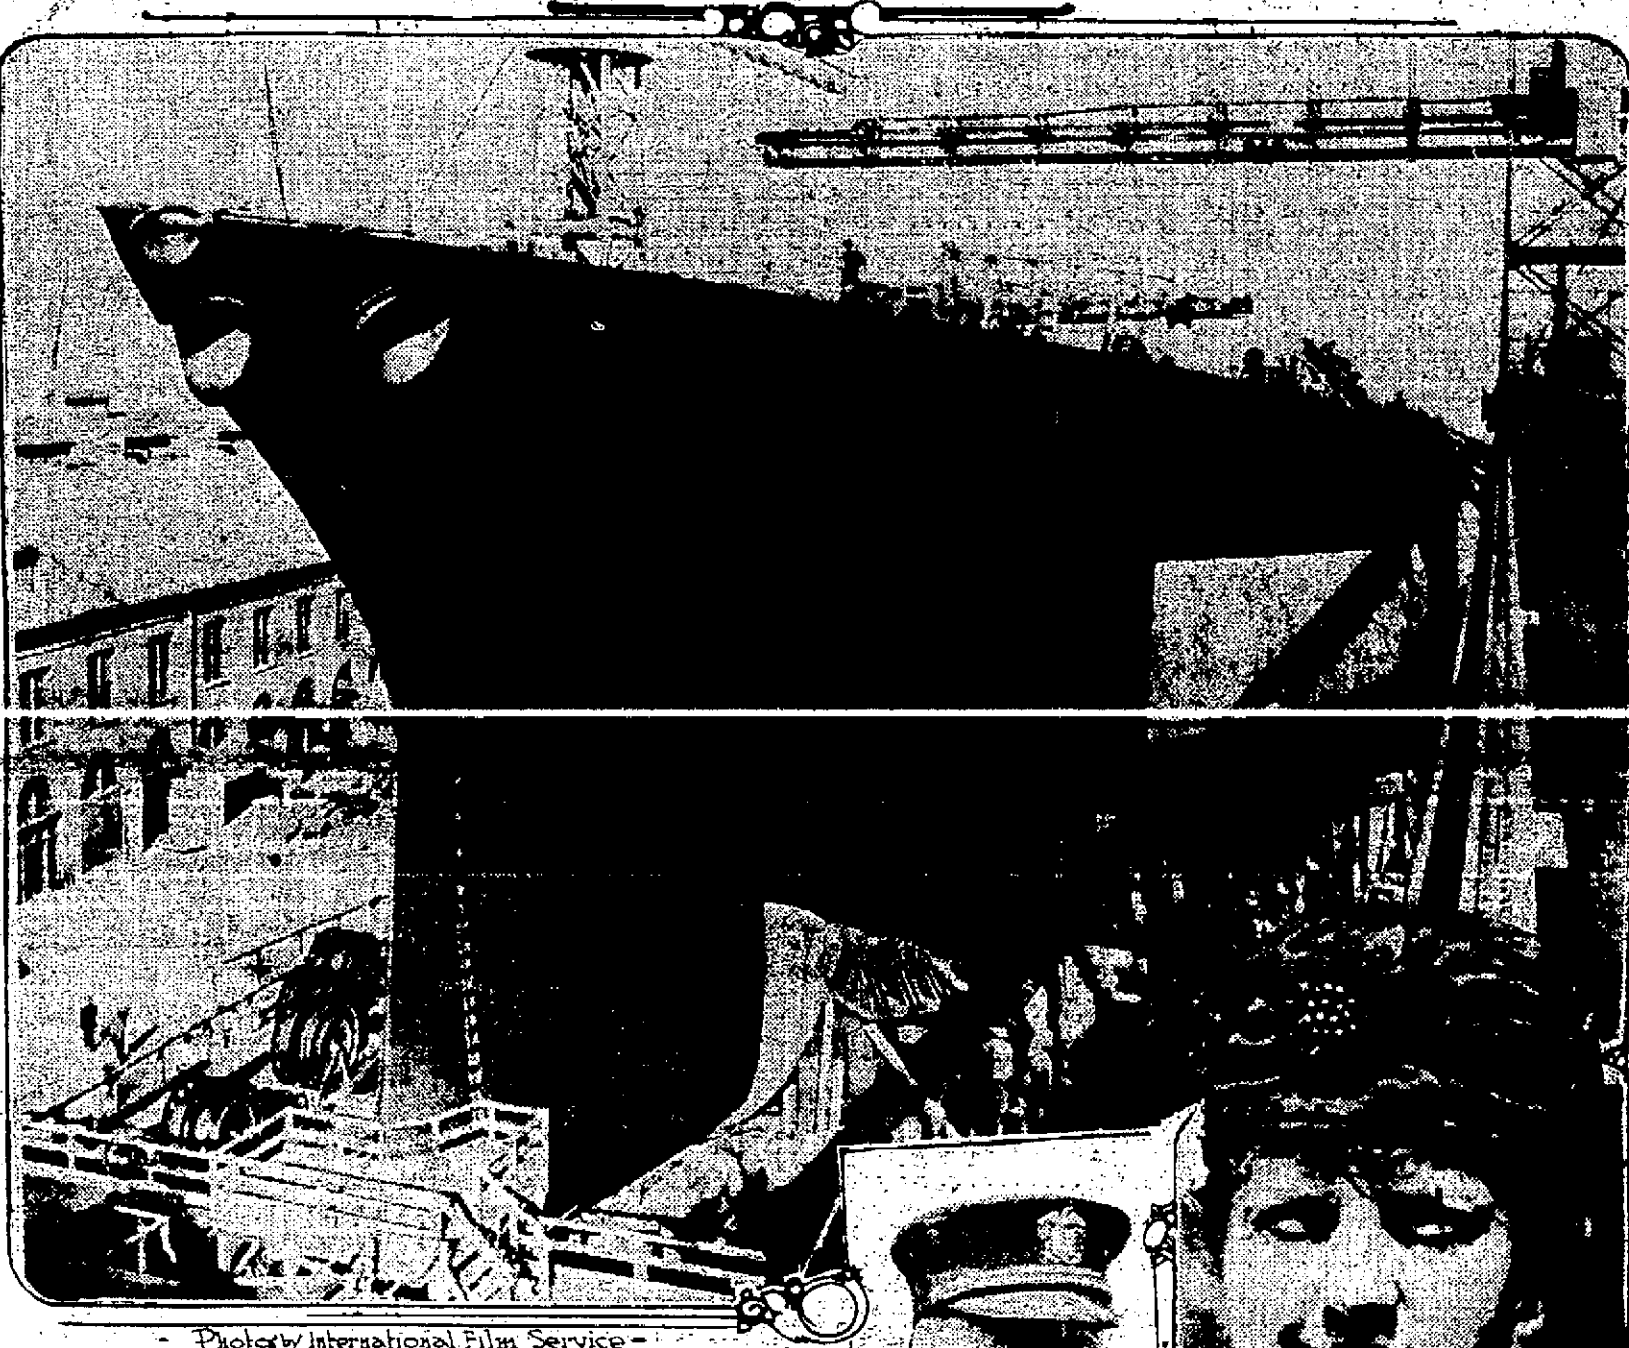

Taking up the literature which Hudson declared had been seized at Fresno, Cleary secured the introduction in evidence of the opening statement in the Chicago Industrial Workers' trial of their chief counsel, George Vandervort. It was a volume of approximately 100 pages. The prosecution objected to its being read on cross-examination. At the court's direction, Cleary reserved it to read as a portion of the defense's case in chief.

KIRK, N. T., Nov. 20.—A mail pouch containing $7,000 worth of liberty bonds was stolen from the Union station here last night.

California Crashes Into Vallejo Ferry Pier When Brakes Fail to Stop Vessel

Superdreadnaught California launched today at Mare Island Navy Yard, and two of those who took prominent parts in the ceremony that was witnessed by several thousand persons. MRS. RANDOLPH T. ZANE, who sponsored the California, is the widow of a Marine Corps officer. The other picture is that of CAPT. E. L. BEACH, yard commandant.

TUGS ARE RUSHED TO PULL GREAT HULL IN CHANNEL OF STREAM

VALLEJO, Cal., Nov. 20.—The superdreadnaught California was launched today at Mare Island Navy Yard, and two of those who took prominent parts in the ceremony that was witnessed by several thousand persons. MRS. RANDOLPH T. ZANE, who sponsored the California, is the widow of a Marine Corps officer. The other picture is that of CAPT. E. L. BEACH, yard commandant.

The brakes rigged up to stop the California in the narrow channel failed to hold and she crashed into a Vallejo pier of the Six-Minute Ferry between Mare Island and Vallejo, tearing away ten feet of the slip and endangering a number of spectators. She finally came to a stop in shallow water.

Workers on the California, seeing that the brakes were not going to hold, warned all spectators away from the slip as the vessel was about to crash. The California coasted for half a mile, despite the brakes, tugs were sent engaged in endeavoring to pull her out into the stream.

It was the biggest day, socially and especially, in the island's history. The navy uniform, gold-braided admiral's to the ready-for-anything go, took on new significance within the presence of the Titan of fighting ships.

The channel was alive with flags and bunting. The ways themselves and the equipment of the navy yard were trim and "frig" in sea parlance.

Early upon the scene was the christening party. In addition to Mrs. Randolph T. Zane, who is the sponsor, there were present here parents, Governor and Mrs. Stephens.

Three destroyers today conveyed naval officers from San Francisco to Mare Island. Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander of the Pacific Fleet, assigned himself to the Jose Risal, manned by Filipinos.

ALL PRECAUTIONS ARE TAKEN TO GLAD SHIP

With the giving of final instructions to the launching crew, it was said that all precautions had been taken to make the launching safe and avoid possibility of the ship's shooting across the 1200-foot channel and taking to the land from whence it had just come.

Old-time naval officers signed their relief when it was learned authoritatively that Captain H. M. Gleason, officer in charge of construction and repair. He went over the ship late yesterday and pronounced it a wonder in every particular. In all his travels, he said he never had seen a finer.

THREE HUNDRED MEN PLACED ABOARD HULL

Three hundred mechanics took their posts on the Leviathan as the time for launching approached. They were detailed to make any necessary repairs and put on finishing touches after the launching.

On the island itself, there were accommodations only for 4000 invited guests in addition to the 10,000 mechanics, 8000 enlisted men and the officers and their families. It was possible though for more than 25,000 to assemble on the Vallejo side.

The governor's party attended the launching. A "hop" will be held tonight in the sail loft, with many distinguished visitors present. A few of these will be entertained at dinner at the home of Captain E. L. Beach, commandant of the yard.

The keel of the California was laid October 25, 1916, and had it not been for the great demand for destroyers during the world war the ship would have been ready to be placed in commission in 1918. However, the vessel was delayed owing to the press of war work on smaller craft and the necessity of making several radical changes in her structure due to lessons learned during the war. The design of the vessel has been changed in many important features, requiring in cases an almost complete redesigning of the structural features, and when she is commissioned the 44 will be the most powerful superdreadnaught in the world.

The following data is given regarding the characteristics of the California:

Length over all, 624 feet.

Breadth, 36 feet.

Depth, 47 feet, 3 inches.

Mean draft, 30 feet, 3 inches.

Displacement, 32,300 tons.

Speed, 21 knots.

Fuel oil capacity, 1900 tons.

STEAM TURBINES WILL GENERATE ELECTRICITY

The main engines will be electric, the electric generators being driven by steam turbines of 28,000 horsepower. The steam being supplied by oil-burning water-tube boilers. Not only the type of the machinery in installation, but its arrangement is said to be entirely different from any ever adopted for any previous ship.

The complement of the vessel is fifty-eight officers and 102 men.

The armament of the California has arrived at the yard and is ready for installation, and consists of twelve 14-inch, 50-caliber, breech-loading rifles; four submerged torpedo tubes; twenty-two 3-inch rapid-fire guns; four 6-pounder guns for saluting; two 1-pounder guns for boats; four 3-inch anti-aircraft guns; one 3-inch landing gun, and two 30-caliber machine guns.

The 14-inch main battery guns are of an exceptionally powerful type, and will be mounted in threes, in four-centerline, heavily armored turrets which have been constructed at the navy yard and will be installed early next year.

The estimated cost for hull and machinery alone is in the neighborhood of $8,000,000 and the ship when completed will cost more than $15,000,000, it is estimated.

"Nipping" Car Ride Costs Boy His Life

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—A boyish practice of "nipping" rides on street cars cost nine-year-old David Navarro, 157 Mangie avenue, his life today at Sunnyside avenue and Edna street. On his way to school David climbed on the rear fender of a street car. When the car stopped the lad stepped from behind the car directly in the path of an automobile driven by Thomas Pruett, a salesman. The boy was dragged a considerable distance and was dead when taken to the Mission Emergency hospital. Pruett was booked on a charge of manslaughter.

Three L. A. Men Face Trial As Profiteers

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEAFWORTH, "BIRMINGHAM."

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20.—Complaints charging three men—two confectioners and a broker—with having profited in sugar were issued today by J. Robert O'Connor, U. S. District Attorney for Southern California.

This was the first drastic step taken in this district in the government's campaign against profiteering in food.

RUSSIAN ARMY QUICKLY PUTS DOWN REVOLT

LONDON, Nov. 20.—An inter-allied conference will be held shortly, probably in London, to consider the Russian situation. Premier Lloyd George announced in the House of Commons today.

VLADIVOSTOK, Thursday, Nov. 18 (By the Associated Press).—Revolutionary forces which for two days have attempted to obtain control of this city were completely defeated by government troops today. General Galda, the revolutionary leader, was wounded and captured and his followers were driven from every point of vantage by government troops.

Shortly after midnight government troops moved two 3-inch field guns into position at the Svetlanskaya bridge, by which the main thoroughfare of the city crosses the Siberian railroad. The bridge is only 500 yards north of the station, the strongest position of the rebels. A little later, troops reinforced by 100 cadets from the naval training school, proceeded to the business center of the city, while armored cars began arriving at the bridge.

Before the battle opened international policemen and three American soldiers maintained entrance to the railway station from which they took the train to Moscow. It was necessary to the fighting.

SHEDS SET FIRE TO BARRACKS

At 1 o'clock there was a burst of machine gun fire against the rebels holding the railway yards and gunshots started to drop shells on the station. Some of the shells set fire to the barracks of the American replacement battalion.

While government officials expressed the belief there would be little resistance by the rebels, the latter seemed to be in control of the railroad yards, although exposed to artillery fire from the high ground about the city.

Fire was opened at 4 o'clock on the station from the field guns on the Svetlanskaya bridge. Later the fighting became more and more revolutionary forces falling back everywhere and finally being driven from the station. A few hours later the opposing forces clashed for possession of the railway station, approximately 500 men and machine gunshots being fired before nightfall. Government forces under General Rosenhoff held the entire town, with the exception of the immediate vicinity of the station, and in addition controlled the lines of hills, west and north of the town. Machine guns were placed at street corners.

TWO U. S. CRUISERS LYING IN HARBOR

Allied troops patrolled the city, with American troops protecting American organizations. The United States cruisers New Orleans and Brooklyn, under command of Vice Admiral Rodgers, are lying in the harbor.

Hoisted on top of General Galda's train near the station was a green and white flag, the colors of the Siberian Assembly which was dissolved by General Kolchak. On the banner was inscribed the words, "For a Constituent Assembly."

After the proclamation of the revolutionaries yesterday morning, in which they announced their opposition to Kolchak, a semblance of a ministry was formed on General Galda's train. Ivan Alexandrovich Yakushkoff being named president.

General Galda, a Czech, who commanded the Ural army of the tsarist government until his recent resignation, was named commander-in-chief of the new government's military forces.

Announcement was made by the allied military council at 6 o'clock last night that it had decided that the allies should not interfere in the movement, which was considered political in character.

Property of Russians and allied subjects was protected last night by American, Japanese, French, Italian, Serbian, Lithuanian and Russian soldiers forming the international police corps. All approaches to the railway station were guarded.

ONE HUNDRED CIVILIANS VICTIMS OF ATTACK

After three raids against the railroad station, General Galda's troops occupied the building and he established headquarters there at about 3 p. m. The losses in this fighting were six dead and twenty wounded on the Galda side. The losses to the government troops were not announced. It is estimated that 100 civilians were victims of the firing, some being killed.

The American Red Cross is caring for 50 wounded.

A British Red Cross officer was killed at the station plaza. T. W. Rowland, of Hermosa Beach, Calif., a sailmaker's mate on the New Orleans, was hit by a bullet and is not expected to live.

During the station fight Russian gunboats bombarded the railroad yards, their objective evidently being General Galda's train. By 11 p. m. there was only desultory firing south of the station. The war-

FINAL FIGHT ON DRY LAW STARTED IN HIGH COURT

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The war-time prohibition ban will not be lifted until the peace treaty is ratified. This was learned upon the highest authority today. While House officials treated lightly numerous rumors which came that the President was about to lift the ban because the treaty had failed of passage.

BY UNITED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Attorneys for the liquor interests and the government began their legal battle over constitutionality of war-time prohibition by the supreme court today.

Wayne D. Wheeler, counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, filed a brief in support of the government.

The court was crowded to capacity. Outside a throng lined up for a block, waiting to gain entrance.

Elhu Root, Levy Mayer and William Marshall Bullitt were in the court behind a mass of papers to make the arguments for the liquor interests. Assistant Attorney General Frierson was ready to make the main argument for the government, assisted by Solicitor General Kings.

WRECKING COUNTRY

THE Anti-Saloon League, in its brief, said that the war-time prohibition was a "wrecking country."

"The brewers," the brief said, "were using 64,000,000 pounds of sugar a year and enough grain to feed seven million people a year. The brewers in 1918 used 20,000 tons of coal and required 13,500,000 teams and cars, including 200,000 freight cars."

Frierson made the opening argument. Mayer, liquor attorney, sought to obtain more time for argument, but this was refused by Chief Justice White.

WAR POWERS OF CONGRESS CONTINUE

"Present circumstances," Frierson said, "have not ended the war powers of Congress and the emergency has not ceased. The war powers of Congress returned to winning the war but getting the country back to a normal basis," he said, "and that has not been done yet."

"Wasn't war-time prohibition signed after the armistice?" Justice McReynolds asked.

"And you contend it was the exercise of a war power?"

"Yes, sir, because the war is not ended until the treaty is adopted."

"Suppose that the treaty is never put into effect, would you continue this restriction?" McReynolds asked.

MUST AVOID ACTION

"It must be continued until there is some act of the President or the Congress officially ending the war," Frierson replied.

Chief Justice White extended long before hostilities and didn't the courts hold the war was not ended until the presidential proclamation?" Chief Justice White interrupted.

"Hostilities in the Civil War ended in the spring of 1865, but the President proclaimed peace."

Frierson said, "There was no treaty because the South was vanquished and in the interval the country was in the same position as today. The court also held in the Spanish-American war that the protocol did not end the war, but that the treaty upon the proclamation of peace after ratification of the treaty."

Shipyards' Opening Date Not Yet Fixed

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Until the members of the California Metal Trades Association have met in formal session no announcement will be made as to what date the shipyards in the bay region are to resume operations, according to Fred J. Metcalf, secretary of the association.

Metcalf added that no definite date for the opening had been set, but expressed the opinion that it would be in the immediate future, possibly tomorrow. "At that time," he added, "the complete registration figures of workers in all bay shipyards would be made public, as also would the date the shipyards will reopen."

Japanese Radio to Flash Over Pacific

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

TOKYO, Oct. 20.—The new high power Japanese wireless station which will communicate directly with the Pacific coast of the United States, will be completed in November. Trial exchange of messages will at once be made, and if satisfactory results are obtained the station opened to the public. The station is located at Sonokamura.

Ships playing their searchlights on the city aided the allied patrols in their work. It is reported that a similar uprising has occurred at Chita, in the trans-Baikal region.

JOHANNESBURG, UNION SOUTH AFRICA, Nov. 19.—A appeal to America not to blast the hopes of the world through failure to adopt the covenant of the League of Nations, General Jan Christian Smuts, British member of the League Commission, declared in a message addressed to the United States today.

WILSON WILL NOT DROP PACT FIGHT

wants to be ready to face the country with some of its proposed domestic legislation enacted. Complicating the treaty fight next session will be the Lodge resolution to declare the war at an end, which was introduced late last night just before the Senate adjourned. This Lodge resolution can be easily obtained in both Houses, it is declared by Republican Senators. Action will be pressed in the Senate and with the concurrence of the House, peace will then have been technically obtained, so far as Congress is concerned. Belief in some quarters that President Wilson would call another special session before December 1 and force the Senate to resume consideration of the peace treaty was scouted by Senator Hitchcock, administration leader. The Senate's action in refusing to ratify the treaty marked the climax of one of the bitterest political battles since the founding of the government. For the first time in American history the Senate openly challenged the President's traditional supremacy in foreign affairs.

Seized Property May Lead to Litigation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Failure of the Senate to ratify the peace treaty, may cost the United States government $750,000,000 worth of German and Austrian property seized during the war, it was stated at the department of justice today. The peace treaty validated the acts of the alien property custodian, and it was stated today that it would now be possible for Germans and Austrians to bring action to recover their property with the government on the defensive.

Housewives to Banish Eggs from Table Until Prices Tumble

Berkeley League Declares a "Boycott" to Compel Reduction to Fair Figure.

BERKELEY, June 20.—Eggs is eggs. Whether they are cold storage or fresh from the farm they're all the same to Berkeley housewives as far as price is concerned.

Steps to reduce the consumption of eggs to a "minimum" until the new cold storage fruit shall have descended from its aristocratic heights to a "fair" level, were taken yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Berkeley Housewives' League, held at the Masonic Temple, with Mrs. C. C. Emslie presiding.

No price was set by the women at which they will remove their "boycott." Reports will be made at each meeting of the league to determine whether or not the price has dropped sufficiently for general consumption to again be resumed.

FEED BUGABOO. Mrs. Meyer E. Jaffa, wife of Professor Jaffa, nutrition expert of the University of California, declared that the excuse of high prices for feed was a bugaboo designed to scare the investigating housewives off the trail. Feed, she declared, has advanced but little over the price of last year, while the use of high priced wheat she stated had already been cut during war-time regulation.

The retailer will not suffer by any diminishing of the demand for eggs," she declared. "As a rule he has not contracted far ahead. It is the 'Big Five' who will find their products left on their hands and they can well afford to suffer. We housewives are at the end of the line. If we exert our influence, pressure will in turn be brought by whom he deals. We must show good faith that we mean business, but that we also mean fair business. We cannot be extreme in our demands—we must be fair to producer and consumer alike."

DEALERS FRIGHTENED. "That business men are already frightened by the fight on high prices launched by the league was cited by Mrs. Jaffa in declaring that merchants had called her on the telephone seeking to induce her influence the women away from their investigations.

"One man who handled eggs was anxious that we investigate every other commodity but the one in which he was interested," she told the women. "He suggested we 'investigate' cotton cloth. Evidently he had experience in purchasing that."

Supplementing her statement of present conditions as far as the egg market is concerned, Mrs. Jaffa declared that eggs were 9 cents higher at the present time than at the same time last year. A discussion as to whether the housewives might again buy eggs when they dropped 9 cents brought protest from the women led by Mrs. W. T. Cleverdon.

"Last year's price was not a fair price," declared Mrs. Cleverdon. "It was excessive then and could not be considered in determining upon a price which would be considered just to all classes of people."

BOYCOTT POPULAR. That action taken by the women in refraining from the use of eggs would not only affect this year's market but next year's price as well, was Mrs. Jaffa's concluding contribution to the argument which brought the action of the housewives. "The price of any commodity is determined upon the demand for it during the preceding year," Mrs. Jaffa said. "Action which we take today and which will result in lowering prices, will be a determining factor in the setting of next year's prices."

While the women showed a unanimity of opinion as far as the partial "boycott" was concerned, election of officers and adoption of the constitution and by-laws threw them into rival camps, when Mrs. Fred Springer jumped to her feet with a "minority" report from the same committee, which Mrs. Cleverdon repudiated. In effort of Miss Gail Eikes, chairman of the by-laws committee, to have the minority report heard received no support from the chair and nominations of officers proceeded from the floor with both of the reports completely ignored.

MRS. BARTLETT ELECTED. The refusal of Mrs. Emslie to serve as permanent chairman of the organization because of poor health left that office open for an exciting contest which followed and which resulted after a stormy session, in the unanimous election of Mrs. L. W. Bartlett. Names of Mrs. Cleverdon and Mrs. Paul W. Black were offered for the office but were later withdrawn by both women.

The following is the result of the election following numerous nominations and withdrawals:

Woman Convicted As Confidence Operator

Convicted by a jury late yesterday of being a confidence woman, Mrs. Blanche Bliss will go before Superior Judge A. J. Soto for sentence soon. It took twenty minutes to reach a verdict. Mrs. Bliss posed as a multi-millionaire, asserting that she owned valuable property in New York and Canada as well as a group of mines in Nevada. She told this story to W. R. Lansdale, a bachelor, who was alleged, and obtained $200 from him. In exchange she promised him a third interest in the Lucky Girl mines.

Attorneys for Mrs. Bliss today announced their intention of continuing the fight. Motion for a new trial will be made when she is taken before the court for sentence, which probably will be Saturday. Following her conviction, she was remanded into the care of the sheriff on a dis in jail today, awaiting new trial arrangements.

DELAY ACTION ON PROMOTION EXAMINATIONS

Decision on the question as to whether or not physical tests shall be held in promotion examinations in the Fire Department, which was scheduled for settlement Tuesday night before the Civil Service Board, was postponed until next week. A law further time for an unbiased legal interpretation of the quarter section effecting the point.

The controversy was brought before the Civil Service Board last week, when it developed that the department has split on the question, the older members seeking the abolition of physical tests in examinations and the younger members protesting the change. Each side has retained legal counsel to handle the matter.

COMBINATION EXAMINATION
Request was made Tuesday that the position of stoker in the department be filled from the eligible list of hosemen, and a ruling was made by the board that the next examination should be a combined examination for hosemen and stokers.

INCREASE FOR STENOGRAPHER
An increase in the salary of Inspector Harry H. Caldwell, head of the Bureau of Identification, was asked for by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. F. Morse, and an investigation was ordered by the board. Several weeks ago Caldwell announced that he would be forced to leave the department, which he organized some years ago, unless his salary was increased.

SIX ARE HELD ON CHARGES ENTERED UNDER 'RED LAW'

The arrest of Edrick B. Smith, said to be a Communist Labor party organizer, by Inspectors Kyle and Keefe is the sixth since the drive under the new criminal syndicalist act commenced. Inspector Fenton J. Thompson, conducting the campaign against the radicals, was making an effort today to prevent the release of the six on bail until all of the arrests which are planned have been made.

Smith was arrested as he was about to board a train for San Francisco last evening. Others under arrest are J. C. Taylor and John E. Snyder, Socialist leaders. FORMER RUSSIAN ARMY OFFICER RELEASED

E. A. Postnikov, former Russian colonel and a captain in the American forces during the recent war, a member of the University of California faculty for several years, has been released on bail on the charge of interfering with an officer. Postnikov objected to the arrest of

SUSPECT IN MURDER CASE HELD BANDIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Edmy Bordieu, one of the three youths taken into custody last night as a suspect in connection with the murder of Detective Antoine Schoombs by two automobile bandits Sunday night, was positively identified today by Marnie Levy, well known San Francisco woman, as being one of a trio who recently beat up Levy in his home several nights ago and escaped with coin and diamond medals amounting to approximately $2000.

Bordieu and two companions were picked up by Lieutenant of Police Charles Goff when they were riding in an automobile in which they were at a garage at 333 Jones street. According to the police, in the pockets of the vehicle were found two revolvers, ammunition and burglar tools. Bordieu had been living at a downtown hotel. His companions gave their names and addresses as Hugh Finley, 313 Clifford street, and Charles Morrison, Empire hotel. The police said these men answered the description of thugs who Friday night failed in an attempt to hold up a baker in the Mission district, and they have evidence tending to show that Bordieu was implicated in a plot to take the life of Detective Jack Floyd.

Up to early today 14 men have been taken into custody throughout the city for cross-examination at police headquarters. They were booked as vagrants with bail at $1,000 in each case to insure their remaining in prison. Following a severe cross-examination by the authorities, several of these men satisfied the police they had no connection with or knowledge of the shooting which resulted in the killing of Detective Schoombs and were released. The police said that additional releases would be made today. The principal purpose being to apprehend every wayfarer who is unable satisfactorily to explain his presence on the street in the hope that additional clues might be developed.

Chief of Police White today is taking active participation in the investigation and has announced his intention of visiting a garage in the residential district where two suspects escaped from the police in a shower of bullets.

PROMPT ACTION SAVES PROPERTY

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—When A. M. Gaston, retired soldier living at 1540 Prince street, detected smoke filling his home at 2:15 o'clock this morning he didn't wait for anything to report his "find" to the fire department. He ran to the nearest fire alarm box, four blocks away. When firemen arrived on the scene he was back on the job to direct them in their work.

A gas stove which members of the Gaston household had failed to extinguish was the cause of all the excitement. Awakened by the smell of smoke Gaston found the kitchen wall in flames. By the time the fire department had arrived the flames were eating their way upward into apartments occupied by Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Meyervitz and their two children. Had Gaston hesitated in turning in the alarm the lives of the residents of the house would have been endangered, according to the fire officials.

Berkeley Police Are Given Shooting Range

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—Sharpshooters of the Berkeley police department were today mobilized for action with an announcement of a new shooting range to be provided for the officers of the law.

C. C. Newkirk, former Berkeley councilman and manager of Post Brothers' soap works, has offered to set up a range for the police department at the West Berkeley factory. The offer has been accepted by Chief Vollmer in behalf of his men.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Is Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's uric waste, else you have backache, tick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach grows, tongue is coated, and when the filter is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water seals and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts: take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then be fine. This famous salt is made from the acid grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Advertisement.

Husband Asks Court To Free Cold Wife

"I have died to you as you have died to me. My last request is for freedom."

That is what Mrs. Mildred R. Bent wrote to her husband, Ralph R. Bent, phonograph salesman, on July 7 last, according to his complaint for divorce in which he charges cruelty. Bent says that since January of this year when he returned from his trips as a traveling salesman, he has found that his wife was growing increasingly colder to him and that she constantly held herself aloof from him. He declares that he has been a good husband to her and has tried to make her happy. He asks the court to grant her permission to resume her maiden name of Mildred Rose Moore. They were married in San Francisco in 1915. Bent says that last May his wife refused to accompany him to Oakland to live and told him she would not accept money or support from him again. WHOLE FAMILY IS NOW HELPED

Mother, Father and Daughter All Overcome Troubles By Taking Tanlac

"A medicine that will do a family's work in every body's home," said J. C. Foster, a retired dairyman, who lives at Cloverdale, Oregon, while in the Owl Drug Store in Portland, a few days ago. Continuing, he said:

"I had suffered from constipation for six years so bad that I had to always be taking some kind of laxative, and about a year ago my stomach began to trouble me considerably. I had a very poor appetite and could hardly eat a thing and when I did manage to force down a little something I would have the worst sort of cramps and would bleed badly. I had pains in my temples and under my right shoulder blade, and felt tired and worn out all the time. When I found myself in this condition I immediately began taking Tanlac, and you will see it was perfectly natural for me to do so when I tell you what it did for my wife and daughter."

"My daughter had the flu last April and was left in such a bad condition from it we were very much worried about her. She was badly run down and had a bad cough. My wife, who had been reading so much of the good Tanlac was doing others, got a bottle and began giving it to her. Well, to make a long story short, she took in all about eight bottles, and you could see the difference in her before she took Tanlac. She was the same person, improving after taking the first bottle and is now as well as her health as she ever was in her life."

"My wife had rheumatism so bad in her lower limbs she could scarcely walk, and a few bottles of Tanlac immediately set her straight again and she never has a pain of any kind."

"So my thoughts naturally went to Tanlac for my troubles, and after taking only three bottles, as well as I ever was in my life. I sat right down and am not bothered with constipation or with a pain of any description."

"My family could not say too much for Tanlac and we only wish it were possible for us to tell everybody about it. Our family doctor, who calls a family of Tanlac boosters, Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company stores.—Advertisement."

ATTORNEY WINS $250 FEE SUIT

Judgment for $250 attorney fees was won today by Attorney Al Cunha before Justice of the Peace Harry Culbert. The transaction involved of which the suit arose, was a charge by Mrs. Elizabeth Rehffuss that Charles Hoffman, realty dealer, had appropriated a mortgage of $1000 and that she had lost $3000. As it developed the mortgage was not appropriated, and Mrs. Rehffuss made a profit amounting to 20 acres of land in Mendocino county and $150 profit on the crop.

Mrs. Rehffuss traded 10 acres near Lodi, valued at $4000, according to the testimony, for Oakland property worth $2750 each party assuming a mortgage for $1000. Hoffman, agent for Mrs. Rehffuss, who she secured on the Lodi property. She took the matter up with the district attorney, who declined to prosecute. As a result of subsequent negotiations she secured a return of the mortgage, together with the Lodi land, $150 realized on the crop, and the 20 acres in Mendocino. It was for services in this connection that the attorney fee was claimed.

Seeds of Future War Sown If U. S. Rejects the Treaty, Says British Economist

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—A higher standard of morals in international trade is necessary before the world will know real peace and will have gained the great benefits of the war, according to Professor J. A. Hobson, British economist and lecturer, who delivered the first of a series of lectures last night at the University of California under the Barbara Weinstock foundation.

The failure of either America or Great Britain to enter a league of nations will sow the seeds of future struggles for economic supremacy, Professor Hobson told a large audience last night in Wheeler hall. "America, he said, occupied the unique position of being independent of every other nation in the world as far as her economic position was concerned. Upon the United States also Professor Hobson declared depended the success or failure of any league of nations that may be entered into.

EUROPE HAS NO CLAIM.
"Europe has no right to claim upon America either for the urgent work of economic rescue or for participating in the permanent project of a society of nations," he said. "The world only has the right to refuse; it is probably to her immediate interest to refuse. But the refusal of America will shut the gate of hope millions of war-broken, famine-ridden people in Central and Eastern Europe. It would remove the keystone for the edifice of a society of nations."

"No league of nations can survive in its infancy without economic nourishment. Would it not be the larger and longer hope and interest of America to live as a great partner in such a society of nations, rather than to live a life of isolated prosperity, perhaps the sole survivor in the collapse of Western civilization states?"

RISK-TAKING NECESSARY.
"For morality among nations as for individuals, implies faith and risk-taking, not recklessness, but dangerous living, a willingness and a desire to take a hand in the largest game in life."

Continuing, Professor Hobson said in part: "In each great nation of the world the same great struggle of contending principles and policies is taking place. National self-dependence or internationalism is everywhere the issue. It is true that in no European country can the issue be so sharply presented as in America. For economic self-sufficiency in a full sense and, therefore, political isolation, is not possible for any European state. Even a peaceful and reviving Russia must lean upon her more advanced neighbors for the economic essentials of capital and organizing skill."

NATURAL REACTION.
"This harking back to an economic nationalism is a natural reaction of the war and is fed by a dangerous and precarious peace. Fear, greed, suspicion, prompt the victorious nations to guard their gains by reverting to a close nationalism or a ringed alliance, humiliation without humility, the bitter pain of thwarted ambitions, resentment at their punishment, dispose the vanquished nations to keep their own company and form, if possible, an economic system of their own."

"Before the war internationalism was visibly advancing with every fresh decade. The bonds of commercial and financial prosperity between the peoples of different countries were continually woven closer. Any reversal of this policy would be far costlier than may at present appear, even for those countries best qualified by size and resources to stand alone."

"This is the temptation being held out to the British people today by the protectionist interests working upon the animosity of the war spirit and the sentiment of imperialism. The wedding of an empire into an independent economic system, the conservation of essential or key industries and the safeguarding of our industries against 'dumping' are the ostensible objects of a policy whose chief driving motive and end are the establishment of a strong, commercial, industrial and financial empire, combinations defended by tariff walls and endowed with the profits of monopoly."

CLASS WAR FEARED.
Such attitude, Professor Hobson declared, would lead to the formation of a class war based on divisions of interests between capital and labor.

"The first skirmishes of such a conflict are already visible in every country where wages, prices and profiteering are burning issues," he stated. "I would most earnestly appeal to thoughtful citizens in this as in my own country to pause before heaping fuel on these fires. For the policy of national self-sufficiency means nothing but a new and strengthened power of capitalistic combinations and incites labor unions to direct action, blackmailing demands and sabotage. It keeps alive and feeds the habit and the spirit of strife."

LEGACY OF BIG WAR.
"It was no accident that the great international war has left us its legacy of internal class wars in European countries. Carry through a policy of economic nationalism under which all the large and well-equipped nations and empires conserve for their exclusive uses the national sources they command, and what happens? The smaller and poorer nations, however free in the political sphere, are their economic bondslaves at the mercy of the master for their foods and other necessities of life. Take the case of Austria under the new conditions, with a thick population suddenly deprived of all free access to its former sources of supply, and the market."

MAJOR PROBLEM.
"It is a sentence of economic strangulation. Are Britain, America, France and Japan, and especially the two greatest of these powers, going to absorb or monopolize for their exclusive purposes of trade or consumption these supplies which every country needs or are they going to let the rest of the world have free access to them?"

"On the whole, this is the most important of the many urgent issues confronting us. For if close nationalism and imperialism prevail, the weaker nations could not survive. Close economic nationalism is not for them a possibility. They must win access to the world's supplies, peacefully if possible, or else by force. "Nations must and will fight for the means of life. Close economic nationalism or imperialism on the part of the great empires must, therefore, compel the restricted countries to organize forces for their economic liberation. This will compel the great empires to maintain strong military and naval defenses. It is impossible for the other nations of the earth to leave the essential supplies of metals, foods and oils and the control of transport in the exclusive possession of one or a few close national corporations or a permanent 'Big Four.' Under such conditions the sacrifices of the great war would have been made in vain. "It is predominantly upon America and Britain that this great economic choice rests, the choice upon which the safety and the progress of humanity depends. A refusal by either of these great powers to make any league of nations and any economic internationalism impossible. The confident consent of both can furnish the material and moral support for the new order."

CHALLENGE TO AMERICA.
"The supreme challenge comes to America. Even Britain with her vast extra European territories cannot hope to disentangle herself from the affairs of her near neighbor. America could do this, at any rate for some considerable time. She alone is able to refuse. True she has economic commitments in Europe. She has loaned European peoples and governments millions of money; she is still lending credit to support the large surplus of foods and other goods she is selling Europe. Europe in its present case can hardly be presented as a safe business proposition. If America proceeds along this path it will be because she looks beyond the immediate risks to the wider future of a safer and more prosperous world."

Professor Hobson will deliver a lecture on "The Future of the World" at the University of California, Berkeley, on Monday, Nov. 21, at 8 p. m.

Child is Killed by Playing With Match

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Five-year-old Anna Karavos is dead as the result of playing with matches. The child, whose parents live at 28 Clara street, was alone with five other children yesterday afternoon. When Mrs. Kate Karavos, the mother, returned the child's clothing was ablaze. The mother attempted to smother the flames in her own dress, but the girl's face and body were already burned. She was rushed to the Harbor Emergency hospital, but died several hours later.

Three additional lectures in the Weinstock series under the general title, "The Ethics of International Trade," his next talk is scheduled for this evening and the remaining ones Monday and Tuesday nights in Wheeler auditorium.

Youngest Organist Gets Record Salary

Katherine Bannon

To Katherine Bannon, 16-year-old organist, has come signal honors, unprecedented in the history of the theater. The young musician today presides over the console of the largest organ in the world—that at the Oakland T. and D. Theater.

Gordon Bretland, one of the T. and D.'s regular organists, was taken suddenly ill last Saturday morning. At 11 o'clock that morning there was no one in sight to play the mammoth organ for the show beginning an hour later.

Then Manager Eugene L. Perry thought of Katherine Bannon. He had heard her play on a church organ and was impressed by her ability. An hour after the announcement of Bretland's illness Miss Bannon, without rehearsal, was supplying the interpretative music for the T. and D.'s screen program—and in a fashion that is today earning her $100 a week.

In addition to being one of the youngest organists in the country, Miss Bannon is also the youngest member of the Musicians' Union of America.

Little more was known to see Norma Talmadge in "The Isle of Conquest" at the T. and D. Next Monday begins the big "Made in Oakland" exposition. — Advertisement

President Appoints New Industrial Conference To Meet on December 1st

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—President Wilson today appointed a new industrial conference and called it into session here December 1. The conference will be composed of seventeen men, including government officials, businessmen and former governors of states, and it will carry on the work undertaken by the National Industrial Conference which founded on the rock of collective bargaining.

The personnel of the conference follows: Secretary of Labor Wilson, former U. S. Attorney-General Thomas W. Gregory and George W. Wickersham, former Food Administrator Herbert Hoover, former Secretary of Commerce Oscar F. Strauss, Henry M. Robinson, Pasadena, Cal.; Professor Frank W. Taussig, former chairman of the traffic commission; former Governor Samuel W. McCall of Massachusetts; former Governors Martin H. Glynn of New York and Henry C. Stuart, President Thompson, Ohio State University; President Richard Hook, Springfield, Mass.; George T. Slade, St. Paul; Julius Rosenwald, Chicago; Owen D. Young, New York City; H. J. Waters, Manhattan, Kas.; Stanley King, Boston.

CALL IS EXPLAINED
The President's letter of invitation follows:

"In accordance with the suggestion given me by the public group of the recent industrial conference, I am calling a new body together to carry on this vitally important work, and I trust you will give me the pleasure of naming you as one of its members."

"Guided by the experience of the last conference I have thought it advisable that in this new body there should be no recognition of distinctive groups, but that all of the new representatives should have concern that our industries may be conducted with such regard for justice and fair dealing that the workman will feel himself induced to put forth his best efforts, that the employer will have an encouraging profit and that the public will not suffer at the hands of either class. It is my hope that this conference may lay the foundation for the development of standards and machinery within our industries by which these results may be attained."

"It is not expected that you will deal directly with any condition which exists today, but that you may be fortunate enough to find such ways as will avoid the repetition of these deplorable conditions."

"The conference will meet at a place to be hereafter designated in this city on the 1st of December next."

ROBINSON'S SERVICES

PASADENA, Nov. 20.—Henry M. Robinson of Pasadena, a member of the new industrial conference appointed today by President Wilson, is an attorney. He attended the peace conference at Paris as a member of the economic group of advisers to President Wilson and also served there on the supreme economic council and on the international labor board. Later he became a member of the United States shipping board, from which he resigned September 15.

Arbitration Treaty Equivalent to League

EDINBURGH, Nov. 20.—The British-American arbitration treaty will be the equivalent of the League of Nations, in the last analysis, American Ambassador Davis declared in an address to the Scottish-American Association here late yesterday. "The League of Nations merely is an effort to make universal those ideas, principles and customs, which America and Great Britain have fostered," Davis told the association.

AUNT ELSIE'S KIDNIE KORMER

You had better do your foreheads up right away in "vinctar and brown paper," for by the time you are through guessing the puzzle we have today you will feel as if your brains had turned somersaults. It really isn't so very hard though. Just the names of three queer animals hidden in all this pile of stuff that looks like a junk shop. Guess the name of each article and write it down. When they are all named, the initials, when they are put in proper order, will tell you what the animals are.

This is a "beheading" time—if you don't believe it ask Mr. Turkey. So how would you like to behead a few words? It's ever so much fun. Guess the word, then chop off the first letter, and you'll have an entirely different word.

Behead an unhappy sound and of your body.

Behead a unhappy sound and leave a wise bird.

Behead a carpenter's tool and leave a little road.

Behead something you hang in a tree and leave part of a bird.

Behead an article of furniture and leave part of your head.

Behead a conversation and leave something you wear on your head.

Our letters today open with a puzzle too—a dandy.

My seventh is in eat, but not in drink.

My whole is a paper—which do you think?

Answer—THE TRIBUNE.

ROSE NUNES

Dear Aunt Elsie— This is the first time I ever wrote to you and I think it is a nice thing to do. With many hugs and kisses,

ROSE NUNES.

1655 Eighth Avenue, Oakland.

LORETTA SWEZY.

Dear Aunt Elsie—

Hurray! the loveliest thing has happened. Do you remember when I told you all how lonesome I was?

There's never a book that he reads, but he knows That he could write out that would be it.

He could pen a great play, but you know how it goes— The chores of the day must be done all the while.

If he could stop working and just settle down To using the talents he claims to possess.

There's nothing could keep him from fame and renown, Without any doubt he would be a success.

He could teach men in Wall Street the ways of finance Or outpreach the preachers in language sublime.

Against him there's not one who'd stand any chance If somehow or other he just had the time.

You men who have given your lives to your toil, You men who have labored professions to learn.

Have struggled and studied and burned midnight oil Your feeble careers and glories to earn.

Beware of the menace which hovers and lies Low over your heads as you prosper today.

For the thought may occur to this Timothy Wise To jump in and take all your honors away.

He'll write all the books and he'll write all the plays, He'll pass you all by when he starts in to him.

He'll make all the money and claim all the praise If ever the day comes when he has the time.

FOR THE GLORY OF YOUR RACE.

For the glory of your race And the honor of your name.

Do your best, whatever your place— Be too proud to stoop to shame.

Do whatever life shall ask— So, when finished, it shall be Your performance of a task— Fit for all your friends to see.

For the father's name you wear, And the mother love you know.

REVELATIONS of a WIFE

by ADELE GARRISON

William's silence was eloquent for a long moment. I knew that I had hurt the poor old fellow's self-esteem, and felt vaguely guilty. After a moment he spoke dolefully: "But do you know him, Mrs. C.?"

"No," he persisted. "How do you know he's what he says he is?"

"I have known him," I answered, "and a long time." I returned, for I heard the officer's footsteps approaching, and wished no further controversy. But my cheeks burned in the darkness at the falsehood.

"Well," William muttered sullenly, "if he's such a big army officer, why ain't he tendin' to his business?"

"I don't need to take you to no station when I'm here to go."

THE LIGHT BREAKS.

It was only the angry comment of an offended man—all work, but I realized the truth of it instantly.

Because of this, I returned, for I heard the officer's footsteps approaching, and wished no further controversy. But my cheeks burned in the darkness at the falsehood.

"That will do, William," I said decidedly, and the next instant Captain Grantland's voice sounded behind us.

"This man will go back with you, William," he said, indicating a railroad guard who accompanied him. "Then you will have no further trouble."

His words were commonplace, but there was an intonation in his voice as he pronounced William's name, which made my cheeks burn.

It was an amused intonation, and I knew that he must have heard part at least of the colloquy between William and me, concerning himself.

William deigned no answer to either of us, but turned and followed the guard up the bank to the pipe line. Every line of his squat figure outlined in the faint moonlight spelled sordid sullenness.

Captain Grantland stood still until the old chap and his escort had reached the top of the bank. Then he placed his hand lightly under my elbow and guided me up the bank.

He didn't speak until we had turned our faces toward Stoneville, and I wondered vaguely if he had wanted and had refrained from speaking in order to be sure that we were out of earshot of William.

"So William wonders why I ain't tendin' the guard up the bank," he quoted amusedly after a little.

"Oh, you heard?" I was afraid my voice betrayed my confusion.

"Couldn't very well help it," he returned good naturedly. "And I don't much blame him for his comment. It has occurred to me that you might be wondering the same thing."

"Please Captain Grantland, I surely do not think I would presume."

"You are going to have the explanation just the same," he went on. "You see, I happen to have had some little experience with railroads, so they asked me to look over a rather threatening situation on this line. It's outside my present business, which I'm going to tend to again pretty soon."

I hardly heard his last words of mockery, for the little phrase "some little experience with railroads" had been as a mental flashlight illuminating a dark corner of my mind.

Now I knew where I had heard of Captain Grantland.

I believe my experience at the inn, my wound and my reluctant stay in the hospital must have temporarily affected the powers of memory upon which I've always prided myself—although, indeed, no sort of credit should belong to me at all should be given to my little mother's training.

For had I been in ordinary fettle the name, Hugh Grantland, would have recalled to my mind the history of the man as it had been blazoned to the world through the columns of the Sunday newspapers.

Hugh Grantland, millionaire, holding a high position in railway circles, had, in the beginning of the world war, thrown aside his position and responsibilities as if they were so many glass bubbles, and had gone to France, there to enlist in the Foreign Legion. Tales of his bravery had come back by the dozen.

"A rub with alcohol is a great beautifier," says a physician. Nowadays the rub comes when you try to get the alcohol.

"What do you intend to say in your next lecture?" The same things in different language. That lecture is so profound that nobody is expected to understand it at the first hearing.

"Young man," said his sweetheart's father, "do you smoke cigarettes?" "I should say not," declared the youth piously. "I would consider it disgraceful to be seen with one of those vile things in my mouth. I think all cigarette smokers should be imprisoned."

"You ask, sir," thought perhaps you would let me have one," said the old man pointedly. "I smoke 'em myself."

"How nicely you have ironed these things, Jane," said the mistress, admiringly, to her maid. Then, glancing at the glossy linen, she continued in a tone of surprise, "Oh, but I see they are all your own."

"Yes," replied Jane, "and I'd do all yours just like that if I had time."

"I suppose now your husband will come home sooner of nights?" "I don't know. This allowing prescriptions of liquor for illness will make him want to sit up with sick friends more than ever."

Kitchen Economies

by Isabel Beards

Is there, think you, a modern housewife in all America who doesn't glory in the possession of genuine cut glass? But how few there are who are willing—or perhaps who know how—to care for it properly.

Of all the trivial gaffs that a girl receives, cut glass more than any other gift adds "perfection" to her happiness. The pleasure of ownership in time outweighs the anxiety for its safety, and also calls for a knowledge of its proper care.

Cut glass requires a special cleaning outfit of its own, and must be used for no other purpose. It consists of a new, wooden, brass-bound dish tub with a quilted cotton pad made to fit the bottom, two fine, soft nail brushes—one narrow and deep, the other wide—fine cheese cloth washing cloths and soft, lintless linen towels. A large, soft, chamois skin and a quire of tissue paper will be needed for polishing.

Every contact with grease must be carefully avoided as grease clouds the glass, and in some instances causes dullness that cannot be removed. Danger from scratches must also be guarded against. Hard brush or rough cloths will often scratch cut glass, as will contact with dishes or silverware.

Bonbon dishes, berry bowls, cake plates, tumblers, lagons and open dishes are comparatively simple to care for. But delicate stemmed vases, cruets, arafes and slender-necked pitchers are difficult to keep free from the effects of disfiguring sediments.

As it is practically impossible to reach the bottoms of the last-named pieces through their slender necks, to cleanse them dependence must be placed on the slow but sure soaking process. Strong ammonia and white soda are put in the vessel to be cleaned and shaken, often with ordinary does the work. If it doesn't, add little wads of tissue paper.

If the stains on the glass still remain, empty the water and use in its place lemon juice and salt, or the inside skin of a raw egg, a grated potato or a teaspoonful of buckshot very carefully employed.

Any of these agents will remove wine and vinegar stains, which cling the most tenaciously. Never wash a piece of cut glass under running water, for the only way there is chance of letting it slip from wet fingers and crash in the sink, but the varying heat of the water is almost sure to find a flaw unnoted even with the microscope, which will shatter the piece into a thousand fragments.

When ready for cleaning, assemble the cut glass and have all the cleaning articles in readiness. Half fill the dish tub with water—which is comfortably warm to the point of the elbow—add to it a quarter of a cupful of ammonia and wash one piece at a time, using the soft cloth and brush for the crevices. As no soap is used, the glass doesn't require rinsing, only wiping on the soft towel.

FLUENZA STILL EXACTS ITS TOLL OF HUMAN LIVES

Los Angeles Man Tells How He Overcame the After-Effects of the Disease

Deaths from influenza did not cease when the epidemic subsided. According to an official of a leading life insurance company the death rate for the first six months of the present year was greatly increased by the hundreds who succumbed to the after-effects of the disease. The blood bore the brunt of the body's defensive against the ravages of the disease germ and during convalescence it was necessary to restore the blood before recovery was possible. Most of those who began treatment with the right tonic are none the worse for having had the disease. This Los Angeles man's experience should prove profitable to many others.

"I had a bad attack of Spanish influenza and it left me very weak," says Mr. Andrew W. Harris, of No. 411 East 28th street, Los Angeles, Cal. "It seemed, for months, as though I would never regain my strength. I was completely exhausted after a day's work but couldn't sleep and I'd get up more tired than when I went to bed. I suffered from severe pains across my temples and didn't care for food. As my strength seemed to be leaving me completely I became melancholy and depressed."

"I procured a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills after reading in a newspaper what the remedy had done for others. The treatments seemed to have an almost immediate effect on me, first giving me a keen appetite. My strength returned slowly and now I feel as strong as ever. The pains in my head have left and for the first time in months I learned what it was to have a full night's sleep. I have since used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a tonic and she thinks they are fine. We have both recommended the remedy to our friends."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 60 cents per box. Write for free booklet, "Building Up the Blood," containing a special chapter on the grip.—Advertisement.

IF YOU NEED A MEDICINE YOU SHOULD HAVE THE BEST

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promise of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. It cures kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by enclosing Post-Office Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclosing the coupon also mention the Oakland Daily Tribune.

FIGHT ON COBURN WILL LAUNCHED

Formal contest of the will of the late Pescadero millionaire, Loren Coburn, was begun by the heirs at law in the San Mateo county Superior Court yesterday with the appointment of Jehiel Coburn, only surviving blood relative of the deceased, as guardian of the estate.

as guardian of the estate of Loren Coburn, imbecile son of the testator and principal heir. Under the will half of the estate goes to the estate of his widow, who was murdered some months after the death of her husband, and the other half to her estate and to C. H. Widemann in trust for the son.

The contest follows closely upon a similar contest of the will of the deceased widow, Mrs. Sarah Satira Coburn, begun two weeks ago, by W. A. Brooks, public administrator of the estate, in that contest Brooks was appointed guardian of Loren Coburn, who benefits under the will.

Brooks joined the petition in the present case, for appointment as joint guardian, but Judge Buck decided to appoint Jehiel Coburn alone. The latter is 84 years old and is the only surviving blood relative of the deceased rancher residing in California.

The petition asserts that Coburn died on November 13, 1918, at the age of over 82 years, and that for ten years continuously before that time "by reason of old age and the infirmities incident thereto he was of unsound mind and incompetent and incapable of taking care of himself," and was possessed of insane delusions.

The petition continues that while Coburn was still incompetent Widemann had dealings with him and with his properties, and that "large sums of money arising out of said property came into the possession of Widemann and were in his hands at the time of Loren Coburn's death."

The petitioners state they are informed that Widemann claims that he is not indebted to the estate, but that Coburn owed him $25,000, for payment of which he has put in his claim against the estate.

They aver that Widemann also claims that on April 10, 1918, Coburn granted him an option running to September 28, 1929, within which time to purchase 10,000 acres of the Coburn Pescadero ranch, and that "on the 12th of November, at 53 minutes past 4 p. m., while Loren Coburn was unconscious and on his deathbed, dying but a few hours thereafter," he said Widemann, caused said purported option to be recorded.

It is alleged that at the time of the execution of the option Coburn was of unsound mind, and that the option does not bind Widemann to purchase the ranch upon any terms nor any conditions whatever, and that the option is a cloud upon the title to the property.

Girl Explains Other Man No Good to Wed

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—When Willie A. Kristoff of Alameda and Eleanor Baboff applied for a marriage license yesterday, Harry Gough, assistant clerk in the marriage license bureau, asked her what she had done with the other man whom she was licensed to wed twelve days ago.

"The other man was no good," explained the 18-year-old bride, "he was a farmer and somewhat slow and when he began talking against marriage I got rid of him and got another man. I tore up the other license."

Percy Ward Presents Son With High-Grade Stock as a Foundation

The one ambition in the life of little Herbert Ward, 5 years old, is to own a chicken ranch. His father, Percy Ward, of 2142 Ward street, Oakland, has started him in the chicken business with five pullets and one partridge leghorn cockerel. He has named his chickens Irene, Lady Jane, Ruby, Babe, Ruth and General Pershing.

His father, who is president of the Alameda County Poultry Association, has entered them in the fifteenth annual combined show of the Alameda County Poultry, California Pigeon and Rabbit Associations, which opens in the Oakland Municipal Auditorium, November 24 to 30 inclusive.

John J. Smith, manager of the combined show, announced today that he has received the largest entry list that has ever been entered in any previous show.

The contest follows closely upon a similar contest of the will of the deceased widow, Mrs. Sarah Satira Coburn, begun two weeks ago, by W. A. Brooks, public administrator of the estate, in that contest Brooks was appointed guardian of Loren Coburn, who benefits under the will.

U.C. STUDENTS STUDY LOCAL HEALTH WORK

Selecting the Oakland health department as approaching closer to the standards of public health service than any other city in the state, the department of public health nursing in the University of California will hereafter include a period of one month's study of methods used in the local department as a part of the public health nursing course in the university.

Arrangements for the instruction of the student nurses in the offices of the health department in the city hall have been completed by Miss Edith S. Bryan, assistant professor in that department at the university, after conferences with John H. Mellon, secretary of the health department. Four students will be sent to the department each month for instruction in general health work, their work after graduation being the establishment in small communities of efficient health department management and organization of health registration bureaus.

The course of one month in the health department will consist, under the direction of Mellon, of the study of sanitation, keeping of records, housing, plumbing, tenement house inspection, milk inspection, dairy inspection, general food inspection, quarantining and communicable diseases.

SPECIAL POLICE DETAIL HUNTS MISSING MONKEYS

"Clementine" is at large! Is she nesting with the birds in some tall tree? Or has she taken possession of someone's cellar and perched herself on a house-top, far from the maddening multitude?

"Clementine" is a ring-tailed monkey. And when a ring-tailed monkey, of the frisky disposition of little "Clem," seeks the open world there is no estimating the discord she will cause.

"Clementine" is the property of George W. Baker, 636 Highland avenue, Piedmont. Baker knows his "Clementine" all too well. That is why he has asked for a special detail to bring her back home, however beleaguered "Clementine" might be.

CHARGES HUSBAND FORGED HER NAME

Mrs. Juanita Lydiken, who charged her husband with forging her name to a mortgage and said he had robbed her of $15,000 during their married life, was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce by Judge T. W. Harris from Walter W. Lydiken, former hardware merchant and ex-soldier.

Lydiken admitted signing his wife's name to the mortgage, but said he did it with her consent when she was ill in a hospital, as he needed the money thus secured in his business. Mrs. Lydiken charged cruelty and neglect, saying his treatment of her had made a nervous wreck of her. She was awarded $40 a month alimony for six months and thereafter $50 a month, with the custody of their one child.

TENANT WINS VICTORY OVER HIS LANDLORD

Suit for Increased Rent Lost and Costs Imposed on Plaintiff
Because of the Failure to Give Required Notice

First court action growing out of the wholesale raises in apartment house rates has resulted in victory for a tenant.

Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco ruled that increases cannot be enforced without a written notice of thirty days served on the renter. He not only held that Adrien Levy, proprietor of an apartment house at 765 Fifteenth street, was without justification in bringing suit against Mr. and Mrs. T. B. King for non-payment of the higher rent but decided that the landlord must pay the costs of the action.

In connection with the "rights of renters" party defined by Judge Trabucco in his decision, Assistant District Attorney Ollie Hamlin today explained proceedings in ejectment.

THIRTY DAYS' NOTICE.

A tenant, he said, first must be given thirty days' notice of intention to eject. At the end of that time, another three days' notice must be given before the landlord can bring action in unlawful detainer. If the court, after hearing the evidence, decides that the proprietor was justified in ordering ejectment then he has it in his power to discipline the tenant by requiring him to pay up to three times the amount of rent unpaid.

In the case before Judge Trabucco, Levy gave notice to the Kings on August 27 that the rent was to be raised $5 a month, beginning September 1. When the bill was presented, King offered to pay the old schedule but this was refused. He made two other attempts, also declined. Levy declared King agreed to the increase. The court held that even if he did it was without value at law and the thirty days' written notice was required.

U. C. MAN'S ARGUMENT.

An argument in behalf of protesting centers is offered by Professor J. E. Bolton of the University of California. The setting of this cost was due in part to the high rents in the city.

According to Professor Bolton, and to have this part of the country now boost rates to high peaks is in the nature of betrayal.

Rent profiteers, Professor Bolton said, played their part in the settlement of the western states.

"The lack of cheap land, and the crowded conditions which caused high rents in the tide-water region were important factors in the increase of migrations over the 'Pennsylvania Dutch' and of the Swedes into the interior regions."

FIGHT AGAINST 17-CENT LOAF WON BY WOMEN

Housewives win. The bread war is over. No Man's Land is piled high with the 17-cent loafes that consumers of Alameda county would not buy, and retail grocers would not trade in. Last night the so-called "bread trust" acknowledged defeat, so far as the fight in the Eastbay was concerned. It announced that it would return to the old price of 10 and 15 cents for loaves.

And now, the housewives declared today, "eggs is the thing." The boycott that proved so successful in the case of bread will be applied to the henery product. Three hundred members of the Berkeley Housewives' League, meeting yesterday afternoon, decided to keep up the fight "until a just price level is reached."

In spite of the offer of the Bakers' Association to go back to the old price, officials of the Alameda County Retail Grocers' Association said that they would continue to patronize the Eastbay bakers who had not tried to raise.

OFFER IS VICTORY SIGN

"We consider the offer of cut from the 'trust' a complete victory," said C. M. Stegman, secretary of the Grocers' Association. "They are willing now by this offer to admit that the raise was unnecessary. It simply means we shall not buy from them. We are selling bread at 10 and 15 cents and can get all that we need for our trade retail at that price." The Stegman said that the offer of the "trust" to reduce the price now was complete evidence that the "whole thing was falsely put to the people."

"Oakland will get 10 and 15-cent bread," he added. "San Francisco will pay 12 and 17 cents for the same-sized loaves."

The egg boycott was declared at the Berkeley housewives' meeting following a report by a committee appointed to investigate alleged "profiteering" in eggs.

WILL APPEAL TO PUBLIC

Mrs. M. E. Jaffa, wife of Professor Jaffa of the department of nutrition at the University of California, presented the report. It was decided to send out a letter urging the general public to assist the boycott.

Mrs. Jaffa asserted that the price of wheat and other "feed" had not increased over 1918, but that eggs had gone up from 7 to 8 cents a dozen.

CHAPLIN ADMITS SLAPSTICK DAYS OF SCREEN OVER

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20.—Charlie Chaplin, funny man, agrees with Max Linder, the French screen comedian who has just reached New York, that the day of slapstick and overripe gag screen laugh producers, have gone. He thinks they were all right in their time but comedy has advanced beyond that stage.

So the price of slapstick can be expected to drop.

Milk and butter will be the next products investigated by the league. A committee will report on the situation with regard to those two staples at the meeting next Wednesday.

Yesterday's session elected officers, adopted constitution and by-laws and decided to make the organization permanent. Officers chosen were: President, Mrs. L. V. Bartlett; first vice-president, Mrs. F. F. Springer; second vice-president, Mrs. Ray-Birge; recording secretary, Mrs. Paul W. Black; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. C. Cole; treasurer, Mrs. B. O. Winter; parliamentarian, Mrs. James J. Hume, mother of Professor Samuel J. Hume of the University of California.

UNION DENIES COLLUSION

In a statement issued this morning by the Bakery Drivers' and Salesmen's Union, No. 432, denial is made of collusion between the union and the bakery owners to raise the price of bread in order to give the drivers a raise in pay, as has been alleged by the Oakland Housewives' League.

The statement, issued over the signature of James Shea, business agent of the union, states that at no time has there been any raise in wages granted in order to be able to raise the price of bread. It also alleges that the high cost of bread is due to the high cost of flour.

At present Oakland drivers are getting $40 a week, according to Shea, and in San Francisco a wage of from $35 to $41 is being paid. This is a $4 a week raise over the old rates and was secured after the drivers had demanded $44 a week. Shea also alleges that the price of flour is less in many large cities than in Oakland, but the price of bread greater. In Chicago, he says, bread is 1 cent a pound higher, while flour sells for $2 a barrel less.

At other points on the Pacific Coast he says wages are lower and bread is higher than in Oakland.

INVESTIGATION IN S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—An investigation into the bread situation in this city by the special food commission resulted today in a charge made by Supervisor Charles A. Nelson, chairman of the commission, that thousands of loaves of bread daily are shipped to hog ranches up the river, while the public is paying high prices for bread.

Proposal Made to Suppress U. C. Student Publication For Its Attack on Co-eds

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—The call of fair maidenhood in distress has been answered by faculty members of the University of California.

To the defense of the co-eds on the campus has come some of the best known members of the state university's faculty in denouncing yesterday's issue of the "Raspberry Press," published by men students as a "protest" against women.

Professor Thomas H. Reed of the political science department leads the faculty in denouncing the crass, un-hued publication. In class yesterday Professor Reed scored the editors of the college sheet as "un-scientifically, to say the least."

Here is what he says in still stronger terms, about the student editors:

"If a college student made statements of the tone of those contained in the 'Raspberry Press' before the members of my family, I would throw him out of my house. If he would too big for me to handle I would call on the police for aid."

The storm in which Professor Reed has been drawn had its brewing yesterday morning with the publication of the semi-annual edition of the "Raspberry Press." Arriving particularly the wrath of the co-eds was a picture of the Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority house showing a line of empty beer bottles on the porch and steps and a man and woman in an affectionate embrace.

"Such rough stuff," declares Professor Reed, in his denunciation yesterday, "might be indulged in to a slight extent at a 'stag' affair of some sort, but the men who issued this paper have evidently disregarded the fact that there are thousands of ladies on the campus. Certainly this type of humor should not be tolerated for circulation in a co-educational institution."

Another evil, the professor points out, comes from the impressions which parents gain from the publication of such a paper.

"Parents upon reading such articles as those of yesterday's publication would think a long time before deciding that the University of California was the proper place for their daughter to obtain her education or even a proper place for their son to attend," he declared.

Meanwhile indignation reigns at the home of the Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority, which boasts some of the prettiest girls on the campus, and the fair co-eds refused to be appeased even by the kind things which their professors say in their behalf. Miss Mildred Mallon, senior at the university, has been delegated by the sorority to press the grievances of her sister co-eds before the students' affairs committee and to demand an explanation and apology for the "attack" on the honor of the Greek letter society.

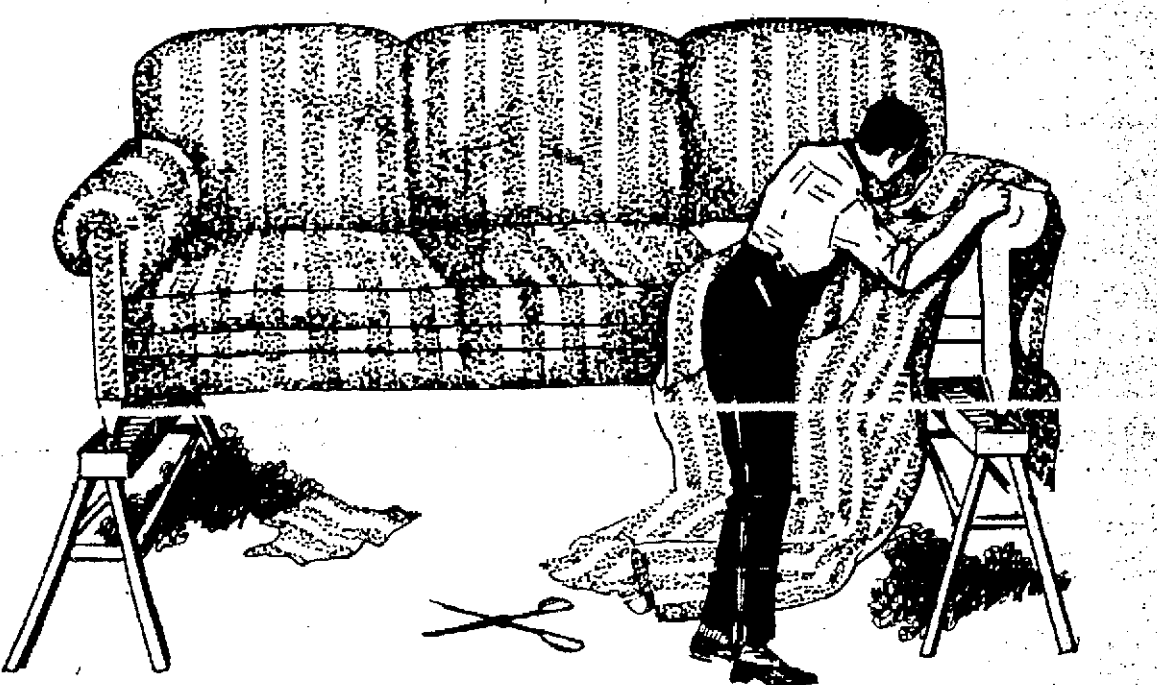

As a result of the sorority's indignation, members of the staff of the paper are scheduled to "be called on the carpet" this evening, with members of the students' affairs committee sitting as the high court of decision. Sinclair Montgomery Dobbin, member of the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity, will lead the staff to the hearing.

Protests of faculty members, as voiced in classrooms yesterday is expected to lead to still further "investigations" and an appeal may be sent to the president's office to take a hand in the matter of suppressing "objectionable" student publications.

For not only is a sting taken at the co-eds but faculty members find themselves "razed" by the crimson sheet. Among the professors at whom fingers are taken are Professor Reed, Professor Ira Cross, Professor Andrew Lawson, Professor E. B. Bolton, Professor M. C. Flaherty and others.

UNTIL WE UNDERSTAND DEATH, CIVILIZATION MUST MARK TIME

"If a single spirit voice is heard Doyle and Lodge win their case," declares the great American novelist, Booth Tarkington.

Tarkington in the remarkable symposium on Spiritualism starting in The OAKLAND TRIBUNE next Sunday takes his first plunge in the realm of the supernatural. He is anxious to have the mystery of the hereafter solved. Open to conviction, he offers encouragement to those men of science who are devoting their life to lifting the veil. At the same time Tarkington does not appear as a champion of the Spiritualists. While he predicates his article on no quasi-scientific data, no years of patient research, as Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and Sir Oliver Lodge have done, the great novelist holds that 'with a steady heart and cool head' man should go resolutely forward in his endeavor to solve the mystery of death. The subject of his article is "Stars in the Dust-Heap." Other noted writers who will contribute to this symposium include: Rupert Hughes, Harvey J. O'Higgins, Ollah Toph, Sinclair Lewis and Dr. James H. Hyslop. NEVER HAS THERE

BEEN PUBLISHED ANYWHERE SUCH A SERIES OF ARTICLES ON THE GREATEST QUESTION OF ALL TIME. In The TRIBUNE starting Sunday.

R. L. Johns, A. M., G. E., psychologist and psychoanalyst, will deliver his dramatic lecture "Psychology of Sex" Sunday, Nov. 24, at 8 p. m., at the Hotel Hamilton. The lecture is being given under the auspices of the Bureau of Applied Psychology.

This powerful lecture has been given in San Francisco and was so packed by requests, many people came to hear it for the first time. RICHMOND GREET'S TRIBUNE'S FLYING CIRCUS; VIEW OVER HARBOR IS MAGNIFICENT SIGHT

Clear Day Affords Newspaper's Guests Exceptional Chance to View Bay Cities and Country Beyond; Return Trip Within a Few Days.

RICHMOND, Nov. 20.—Richmond citizens were out yesterday to greet The TRIBUNE'S flying circus and many took advantage of the free ride offer. So popular did the event prove that it has been decided to make a return visit to Richmond in a few days.

The day was ideal for flying. Those who went up secured a wonderful view of Richmond's harbor and its industrial establishments. Among those who saw fine things were Dr. C. R. Blake, George W. Frick, J. J. Hagarty, Ray Simpson and Carole Anderson.

Pull information as to how to secure a free aeroplane ride can be had at the Richmond branch office of The TRIBUNE, at 4015 McDonald avenue. The telephone is Richmond 255.

The flying circus has proved popular wherever it has appeared. Hayward, Pleasanton, Livermore, and other cities have recently had the opportunity of witnessing it.

In each place the wonderful vistas of countryside, hill and forest have proven revelations to those who have the opportunity of going up. From the high air lanes more than twenty California counties are visible. Without a trip in the air the magnificent sight thus afforded would never have been possible. Those who experienced it declare that it was an event of a lifetime and something worth far more than the little effort expended to win a ride.

The sight from Richmond has been declared particularly wonderful. One not only sees far up the valley where the arms of the bay reach into the heart of the countryside, but one can look into the depths of the forest about Tamalpais or over the mountain top to the ocean beyond. In another direction the peak of Mount Diablo is seen and far beyond the tips of the Sierras beckon.

PLEASANTON, Nov. 20.—The Spring Valley Water company will close the water temple to the public for a few days. The water temple, which has been open to the public for some time, was closed yesterday because of vandals and thieves who had broken into the temple and stolen some of the water.

The water temple is a beautiful building, which has been built by the Spring Valley Water company. It is a place where people can go to see the water and to learn about the water.

BEAUTY SPECIALIST TELLS SECRET. A Beauty Specialist Gives Home-Made Recipe to Darken Gray Hair.

Mrs. M. D. Gillespie, a well-known beauty specialist of Kansas City, recently gave out the following statement regarding gray hair:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp. It is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—Advertisement.

WOULD ENLARGE WHARF

The question of enlarging the municipal wharf so that more business could be handled was discussed last night. It was finally decided to present the matter to the city council Monday evening.

One of the board of directors insisted that no action be taken until the harbor channel is completed. President Claude E. Clark reported that he had attended the meeting at San Francisco for obtaining the Republican National convention for that city. City Attorney D. J. Hall accompanied him as the city's representative. Clark favored action to assist San Francisco in getting the convention for 1924. He will ask the near-by towns to assist Richmond in that effort.

WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

The wedding of Frank C. Siambach took place at the home of Mrs. James J. Chandler, 321 Twelfth street, last evening before the immediate relatives of the bride and groom. Rev. D. W. Calfee, Richmond's pioneer preacher, united the young couple.

Following the ceremony the newlyweds departed for Los Angeles where they will spend their honeymoon. On return they will reside at Richmond or Livermore, where the bridegroom is employed by the Santa Fe Company.

OAKLAND, ANTIOCH REORGANIZATION PLAN APPROVED

In the TRIBUNE of Wednesday the story on this page concerning the financial plans of the Oakland, Antioch & Eastern carried headlines stating that the corporation in question was the Key Route. The Key Route is not interested in any way in the financial plans of the O. A. & E.

In an order issued today by the State Railroad Commission the changes in the plan of the reorganization committee having in charge the affairs of the Oakland and Antioch Railroad, are approved. Today's order modifies an order previously issued so as to permit the San Francisco and Sacramento Railroad, the new corporation formed to take over the affairs of the Oakland and Antioch line, to issue not exceeding $1,500,000 of common stock, $1,325,000 of 6 percent preferred stock and not exceeding $150,000 of 7 percent bonds.

The original plan of the reorganization committee provided for a 20-year 6 percent bond issue. Repayment to the five-year 7 percent bond, according to the reorganization committee, is due to the present financial condition and the small demand for bonds of street and suburban railway. Approximately $900,000 of the bonds will be sold for cash at not more than $100 per $100 of face value.

As much of the common and preferred stock as may be necessary and not exceeding $1,500,000 of bonds are to be distributed to the bond holders of the Oakland and Antioch Railroad, Oakland and Antioch Railroad and San Ramon Valley Railroad provided in the original reorganization plan.

SCHOOL BOARD IS NOT LAZY

Because its functions are of a governmental nature, the Board of Education cannot be held liable for accidents involving automobiles driven by board members while performing their duties, according to an opinion submitted today by City Attorney H. L. Hagan to Lloyd D. Barzoo, secretary and business manager of the Board of Education, following a request for an official ruling on the question.

"The Board of Education is a governmental body to which have been delegated by the State certain duties and powers," said Attorney Hagan in his decision. "As a general rule, governmental bodies exercising governmental functions are not liable for the negligence of their officers, agents or servants when acting in their governmental, political and public capacity, in the absence of a statute permitting it, yet, when the injury arises from the exercise of a duty which is not governmental, but is proprietary and private rights, such body is liable for negligence like individuals or private corporations."

The question of whether the employee is driving his own machine or an automobile belonging to the Board of Education is immaterial, according to Hagan, as long as the business is that of the board.

BOARD TO VOICE
STREET RULING

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—Action of the city council in refusing to close Oregon street between Fulton and Ellsworth streets for the creation of a new school and playground area will bring school officials before the official body tomorrow in protest.

Superintendent of Schools H. B. Wilson and Dr. Roy L. Woolsey, president of the school board, are the officials delegated to voice the protest at the meeting of the board of education at tomorrow's meeting of the council. The purchase of the two blocks of land in question is sought by the school heads for a new site of the Le Conte school and also for a joint playground for the Le Conte, Wallace and Emerson schools. Closing of the street is asked as a means of joining the two blocks of land bordering upon it. Opposition to the closing of the street was led by Councilman George Schmidt at Tuesday's meeting of the council despite a report from the city planning commission that such action be taken.

Protest against the action of the council, of which he is a member, was voiced last night by Councilman Carl Bartlett before the South Berkeley Commercial club. As a result of Bartlett's protest the club voted to ask the council to take favorable action on the school board's request.

Red Cross Seeks Homes for Children

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—Homes for several small children, ranging from four to ten years old, are being sought by the Berkeley chapter of the American Red Cross. The children are among those who have lacked the best home conditions and who for no fault of their own have come to the attention of the juvenile court.

Details regarding the upbringing of these children, and financial allowances, may be obtained from the Home Service Section of the Berkeley chapter, Mrs. F. L. Lupton, chairman. In this work the Red Cross is co-operating with the Welfare Bureau, at 2120 Grove street.

Girl Will Wed Man Who Flew
From Berkeley to San Diego

Miss Helen Courtney Will Marry Aviator Who Made Record Proposal Trip.

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—Love, it is said, has triumphed at Berkeley. Now a record-breaking endurance upon distance.

With Cupid perched on the bow of his ship, Geri T. Clausen, former officer in Uncle Sam's aerial forces and now associate editor of the Pacific Aeronautics, has just completed a round-trip flight to San Diego made in record-breaking time.

BETROTHAL ANNOUNCED
In the southern city Clausen accomplished the object of his trip, winning from Miss Helen Courtney, a question which he had flown more than half the length of the state to ask. Today on Clausen's safe return the announcement of the betrothal of the couple was made.

It was while stationed in San Diego eight months ago in the aviation section of the army that Clausen first met the attractive southern girl. Miss Courtney is a member of a well known San Diego family and is a young woman of unusual charm and attainments.

EXTENSIVE AERO SERVICE
A student at the University of Chicago at the outbreak of the war Clausen gave up his studies to answer the call of his country and began his training in Chicago. Later being stationed at Kelly Field and Rockwell Field, he saw twenty months of service as an army aviator. At present Clausen is engaged in special studies at the University of California while assisting in the task of editing the first aviation magazine to be published in the West, with headquarters in Berkeley.

Wedding plans are being made for June with a honeymoon trip to Europe in contemplation by the well known young couple.

FORMER SOLDIER ROBBED.
BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—E. M. Tyson, former soldier, is minus $55 today as the result of a visit paid to his room 2305 Bancroft way, by a sneak thief. The money was taken from a wallet in the pocket of Tyson's uniform. He has asked the police to help him recover it.

MISS HELEN COURTNEY, who will wed man who flew from Berkeley to San Diego to ask for her hand.

STORY FALSE IF
TOO SWEET, SAYS
BERKELEY CYNIC

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—Alas for the happy fairy tale ending with the prince and the princess safely clasped in each other's arms. It can't be done in modern fiction and poetry life. At least not always. So says Professor F. T. Blanchard of the English department of the University of California and assistant director of the extension division.

Speaking before members of the California Writers' club assembled at dinner last evening at the Garden of Armenia, Professor Blanchard urged them to write "life" as it is.

"All life is not sweet," says the professor. "Too much sweetness in a story is likely to prove its downfall. You must not only know what you are writing about but you must live it."

Professor Blanchard was the principal speaker at the monthly gathering of the writers at which Dr. C. J. Gaddis presided. A campaign to raise funds for a clubhouse is planned by the members and a series of benefits. Planned for the first of which will be given next month. G. W. Skilling is chairman of the club house committee.

Hetch Hetchy Water
Project to Be Topic

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—M. M. O'Shaughnessy, city engineer of San Francisco, will explain the Hetch Hetchy water project to residents of Berkeley at an illustrated lecture on the evening of Tuesday, December 2, at the high school auditorium. An invitation to O'Shaughnessy from city officials and civic bodies of Berkeley to speak here was accepted yesterday by the San Francisco engineer, who has charge of the developments of the gigantic water project.

The meeting at which O'Shaughnessy is to speak is being arranged jointly by the Chamber of Commerce, Lions' club, Rotary club, Manufacturers' association and other civic bodies.

U. C. ALUMNAE TO MEET AT BANQUET

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—As a revival of college traditions broken by the athletic differences between Stanford and California, women graduates of the State University will assemble at a banquet tonight in Town and down tomorrow preliminary to the "big game" of Saturday at Palo Alto.

More than twenty classes will be represented at the banquet and the program will form the inspiration for a day program of stunts and speeches planned to mark the first reunion of the college graduates in several years.

Stunts, planned under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Marx, formerly Rose Gardner, of the class of 1911, will make up the evening's entertainment. Esther Phillips of the class of '09 will be the principal speaker of the evening and will give a resume of alumnae activities.

For the principal portion of the evening's program Miss Minnie M. Simons, former student at the university, now appearing professionally at an Oakland theater, will put on a novel sketch, while Miss Esther Winter, recently returned from overseas with the U. S. C. A. will also contribute to the program. Others scheduled for "stunts" of various kinds are Jeannette Miller Swartz, Cora Peck, Eleanor Irene Coffin, and Irma Brownlee.

Holland thinks his son is in quest of the world. The lad is described as five feet tall and with a ruddy complexion. He wore a gray mixed suit and cloth hat.

Winters Pioneer
Dies in Berkeley

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—Henry Lawson Bicketts, retired rancher of Winters, died last night at his home, 1811 Curtis street, aged 79 years. Bicketts had resided in Berkeley for the past year, making his home in California for eight years. No arrangements have been made for the funeral as yet.

U. C. MEN WEAR
WHITE COLLARS,
ARE 'CIVILIZED'

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—"Wild and woolly" California days are numbered, according to Professor E. J. Berringer of the University of California. Professor Berringer says that California is ceasing to be a frontier, and is fast becoming thoroughly "civilized."

One of the signs of complete civilization," says Berringer, "is the growing habit of college men to wear white collars to classes. Beyond a doubt, California as a frontier is fast disappearing."

ALAMEDA PIONEER
DIES SUDDENLY

ALAMEDA, Nov. 20.—Mrs. Mary E. Herbert, of Alameda, died yesterday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. H. Bissell, 1422 Morton street. Mrs. Herbert was the widow of the late Henry V. Herbert and came to Alameda 44 years ago from St. Louis. She was 75 years of age. Despite her age she was in excellent health until yesterday afternoon her death when she was suddenly stricken with heart trouble, passing away a few minutes later.

Mrs. Herbert was the mother of Mrs. H. Bissell, Mrs. Charles S. Neal, Mrs. Harold Ward, Mrs. Robert Foster and Robert and Sydney Herbert. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

An odd misunderstanding in the receipt of the news of the death of Mrs. Herbert by her son-in-law, L. H. Bissell in San Francisco yesterday afternoon gave rise to a report that it was Mrs. Bissell instead of the latter's mother who had died suddenly. When Mrs. Bissell telephoned to her husband of the death of Mrs. Herbert, the tenor of the message caused Bissell to believe that it was his daughter telephoning and that it was his wife who had just expired. On the way home across the bay Bissell told several friends on the boat that he had heard that his wife had dropped dead in the home in Alameda. It was not until he arrived at the home on Morton street that the true facts were disclosed.

THIEF GETS $85.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 20.—Mrs. Thos. H. Judd, war worker and club woman, returned to her home at 1915 Santa Clara avenue yesterday afternoon to find a thief had visited the house and stolen $85 in currency.

STUDENTS FORBID
CAMPUS RAIDS

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—All raids and campus invasions have been barred by both the University of California and Stanford for the coming big game on Saturday at Palo Alto.

University of California students were warned this morning that their campus paper by members of the senior class that any "coup d'etat" planned on Stanford will result in punishment for the plotters. Stanford, it is declared, has promised similar punishment for any offenders.

A "gentlemen's agreement" concerning student "pranks" was entered into by the heads of the two universities following raids made on the Berkeley campus last year by Stanfordites, during which Salinas tower and Sather gate were despoiled by the invaders. The Berkeley raid was followed by a visit of Californians to Stanford and the "chiding" of several students. President Emeritus Benjamin Ide Wheeler and President Ray Lyman Wilbur of Stanford have pledged their support to the agreement. They will mark future football classes and have announced that all offenders will be severely punished.

Give Dinner Tonight
to Aid Orphans' Home

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—Baked beans and brown bread, with pumpkin pie for dessert, will form the menu for raising funds for a new orphans' home to be erected by the members of Berkeley Rebekah lodge.

The proceeds of the evening's repast will go toward a fund being raised by the Rebekahs for a new orphans' home to be erected by the organization at San Jose. Dinner will be served tonight between 7:30 and 9:30 o'clock. Mrs. Margaret Sheppard, noble grand of the lodge, is in charge of the preparation of the dinner.

HAMILTON IS GRANDFATHER

ALAMEDA, Nov. 20.—Joseph W. J. Hamilton is a grandfather, a granddaughter being born this week to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hamilton, son and daughter-in-law of the county legislator. Mrs. Hamilton was Miss Loretta Hines before her marriage. The younger Hamilton was a service man during the war.

DRIVER SASSES
OFFICER, TAKEN TO CITY JAIL

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—If Nell L. Rogers, driver for the Berkeley Farm Creamery, hadn't been "fresh" and "sassed" back A. S. J. Woods, chief of the Berkeley detectives, this morning, he might have escaped with a warning instead of facing two charges of violating traffic laws.

Rogers and a companion on his delivery wagon resented the fact that they were stopped by the detective, and they said what they thought. They finished by telling their story to the beating officer at the police station.

Two charges, one of failing to have an operator's license and the other of speeding, were preferred against the milk wagon driver.

Berkeley Forum to Hear Paper Tonight

When Buying a Piano Good Quality Is Real Economy

Most people buy a piano once in a lifetime. They start out to buy where they can "do the best" (as they think), not where they can "get the best" (as they should). The attribute "best" to many, usually means the lowest price. Now, Pianos, like everything else in this world, are priced according to their intrinsic worth. They cannot be made to sell (and endure) at the prices which some unscrupulous dealers offer them. The "cheap prices" are for "cheap pianos"—beware of them, because the instruments soon give out, sound tinny, become unplayable—and you have to buy another new Piano.

Why not buy a good Piano in the first place? It will be real economy to consider quality as well as price. A good dealer carries several grades of Pianos when measured by price. You may not be able to afford the most expensive, but you will be able to buy according to your purse—the buying will be made easy by convenient term payments—and what you buy will have quality—will give service—will cause you no regrets.
